

PEACE WILL COME TO SONORA IN THE NEXT SIX WEEKS-COL. JOFRE

Former Chief of Staff for Calles Says Peace Will Be Re-Established at Very Early Date in the State.

DOUGLAS, June 1.—Peace will be established throughout Sonora within six weeks, according to Max Jofre, former chief of staff for General P. Elias Calles, who returned to Agua Prieta Saturday on a mission for General Carranza. What his purpose is in coming here from Vera Cruz he would not say, but it may be in connection with peace negotiations between the rival factions. There has been talk for some time of establishing peace, although there is nothing in the movement of troops to indicate that anything like this will take place.

On the contrary, there are reports that when the Trujillo army advances to Agua Prieta, the Carranza will go out and give the enemy a pitched battle near Caballero. Yesterday afternoon Major Luis Block, chief of staff for Calles, announced that within a few days a second airplane would be received from the Christofferson factory at San Francisco. The new machine will be 110 horsepower, and will cost $8,000. The new machine was built especially for General Calles.

Fly To Frontiers

A mechanic for the biplane now at Agua Prieta left San Francisco yesterday for Agua Prieta. Yesterday morning the aviator L. H. Brown, accompanied by Major Block, made a scouting trip as far south as Fronteras, ascertaining that the Carranzistas had not yet come north this far. They made the round trip in 1 hour 2 minutes.

Lieut. Col. Jofre conferred with General Carranza while in Vera Cruz and reports that the bond chief is stronger than ever.

Must Recognize Carranza

"General Carranza and his staff to our riding on the streets of Vera Cruz everyday," said Jofre last evening. "and everywhere he is received with acclaim by the people. Americans do not realize how strong Carranza is. The Constitutionalist have three transports on the Gulf of Mexico and three on the Pacific. I feel certain that the United States will be obliged to recognize Carranza within a short time. Cuba is for Carranza. I expect some time in Havana, also."

Next Big Battle

"This, of course, hinges on the outcome of the next big battle between Oregon and Villa, and there is no doubt in my mind as to what the outcome will be. Oregon has 50,000 soldiers as compared to Villa's 10,000. The next battle will be at either Leon or Torreon. I spent three days in Tampico, and while there was the guest of General J. H. Trevino, in a battle the latter part of April, where the Villistas lost 100 killed. Everything is all right in Tampico. There is no direct communication between Vera Cruz and Mexico City, but a railroad runs from Vera Cruz to Puebla, and from there the mail is carried to the capital by other means. Conditions are alright in Carranza territory, but where the Zapatistas control, the people have been robbed and are starving. Carranza controls all but four states.

Pleasant Relations

"Vera Cruz is full of activity. There are 70,000 transients in the city in addition to the soldiers. A number of American warships are in the harbor, and the relations between the officers on them and the Carranza officers are most cordial. Banquets are frequently held which officers of both countries attend."

Agua Prieta Crowded

With the arrival of 700 refugees Saturday afternoon by special train from Nogales, Agua Prieta is crowded, and yesterday presented an unusual appearance. Nacari has been occupied by Trujillo. What has become of the Carranza soldiers, numbering 700, that were at Nacari, Major Block would not last evening divulge. They have probably fled to the mountains and some have probably returned to Agua Prieta. They made no attempt to fight Trujillo's forces. Trujillo's men are reported to be running through with a high hand in Compa and vicinity. Major Block says that Calles has a force of men coming behind Trujillo's army, and that the latter's success does not worry Agua Prieta, but if there is such an army, it is not making much noise about itself.

DOUGLAS BOARD IS OUT WITH WARNING ON MARRIAGE BUG

Young Men Who Carry Winsome Douglas Teachers Off, After Contracts Have Been Signed, May Face Litigation.

DOUGLAS, May 31.—The marriage bug, said to be due to the excessive activity of the matrimonial bug among the faculty of the Douglas public schools during the past few weeks, has put the school board on their mettle.

Engagements and rumors of impending marriages which threaten to disorganize the faculty for the coming year resulted in the announcement.

There is hope expressed by the board that the threat of "strict accountability" will deter any further announcements by those teachers who have signed contracts for the coming year.

The recent marriage contract entered into by Miss Rachel Williams, wife of Ashley Packard of this city, came as a blow to the trustees who had reserved a comfortable little berth for Miss Williams in the schools next year. However this was only one and no action was taken.

And then followed Miss Bertha McKean, who as Miss Williams, had signed up to instruct the young ladies in Ellenville for the year 1915-16. This was too much.

Then came the little June Bug, which whirled of more defections from the ranks of the pedagogues, the announcements of which were to have been made in the near future.

That the husbands of the two young women already mentioned, as well as other wives who attempt the same, it is of prospective teachers for the coming year may have suits brought against them for the breaking of the contracts to teach school signed by their wives, was learned yesterday from a prominent local attorney, who has been consulted by the board. It appears that the Arizona statutes of contract-breaking almost permits of the application of the extreme penalty.

As the notice from the school board, will probably cause some discussion and bring forth both adverse and favorable criticism of the action taken, The Dispatch will publish any letters as it may see fit, submitted by the readers of the paper, on the question involved, especially so from prospective brides and grooms.

Action was necessary. A meeting of the board was called and the ultimatum was framed and approved. And here it is.

Notice to Men

We have had our attention called to the fact that quite a number of our teachers have entered into matrimonial contracts since the closing of our schools, and subsequent to the signing of contracts with us to teach, and you are hereby warned that all contracts of marriage made with teachers who are already contracted to teach school in Douglas during the year are hereby declared null and void, and all men, parties to such contracts, will be held to a "strict accountability", and will suffer the penalties prescribed for such offense.

Dated at Douglas, School District Number 27, County of Cochise, State of Arizona, this 29th day of May, 1915. TRUSTEES SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 27, COCHISE COUNTY, ARIZ. S. P. Applewhite, P. T. Witt, H. H. Hothelias.

LOWELL THEATRE GETS TWO NEW MOVIE GUNS

Manager Frazier stated yesterday

that he had ordered two of the latest improved models of motion picture machines and expected to have the battery in action this coming Sunday. The machines which have been ordered are of the famous Powers make and are being used almost exclusively by the United States government and it is claimed they are the very finest machines made. This will give the Lowell a continuous showing of features without the usual wait between reels which has been the only fault that could be found in the entertainment furnished by this popular playhouse. The orchestra is to be improved and at their reopening next Sunday, the Warrent District movie will find a real up-to-the-minute presentation of the very latest and best photo-plays, accompanied with real music. Tonight the Lowell will present a splendid program, there being four distinctly different plays presented, three of which will be snappy comedies and the drama in a two part feature under the Extra brand. Manager Frazier announces that on next Friday he will present the opening chapter of "The Diamond From the Sky." This story, it is claimed, is far better than "The Master Key" and is one that will draw even greater houses than its predecessor. Beginning Saturday, July 10, the Lowell will present "The Goddess" written by Governor Morris and Charles Goddard, which has been photographed and copyrighted by the Vitaphone company of America, and features Anita Stewart and Earl Williams. This is a serial masterpiece and the finest yet to be made by any producing company in the world.

DR. SIMS EXPRESSES VIEWS OF SENATE ON "HANGING" ISSUE

Writes to Bisbee Resident That Upper House Did Not Let Maudlin Sympathy Interfere With the Law.

In reply to a letter written by a citizen of Bisbee, Dr. W. P. Sims, president of the Senate expresses his views as follows on the situation attending the efforts of Governor Hunt to ignore the Arizona law relating to capital punishment:

"Your letter of May 28 received. I can hardly express my appreciation of this kind letter, as it is one of a few which comes to a man in my position that I feel comes from the heart of his people."

"The matter of the action of the Pardon Board seems, at a glance, of no concern to the Senate, but the action of the House and the insistence of our governor that the Senate expiate itself left no alternative."

"I was in the First Legislature that to avoid the loss of the entire Penal Code, after the entire Code had been voted twice by the Governor, passed the Code re-enacting the Board of Pardon provision by a vote of 17 to 12. At the time the Senate took this action, it was generally understood that the Governor's friends would be in a referendum against the Pardon Board section of the Penal Code. This was done, and at the same election the Governor's friends initiated an amendment to the Constitution providing for no capital punishment in this State. The people of this state upheld the Pardon Board provision of the Penal Code, and at the same election voted down the question of the abolishment of capital punishment. I do not believe that it is yet realized that both measures were voted down by such an overwhelming majority. Out of 52,000 votes in the state, only 18,000 voted against the Pardon Board provision. It is safe to estimate that the balance of this vote was opposed to the abolishment of capital punishment and was in favor of sustaining the Pardon Board provision of the Penal Code."

"Not satisfied with this, the matter of the Pardon Board was then taken into the courts and carried to the Supreme Court of this state, where its constitutionality was proven."

"When this legally constituted Pardon Board took up the matter of commutation of sentence for the five condemned Mexicans, in going over the record they found that on December 2 the Governor said, in reviewing the cases where clemency was asked, that he found no extenuating circumstance in any of the cases, and refused to take action. In view of the fact that the legislature, the people and the courts had all approved the Pardon Board, I could not but conclude that the governor's action was a deliberate interference with what I thought meant few interferences of the state of Arizona. It was not a question before the Senate as to whether or not we believed in capital punishment, or whether or not we believed the governor guilty, but purely one of law enforcement."

"The moves of the last few days to save the lives of these men are certainly open to criticism. It seems hardly possible that Maytorens of Sonora and Villa of Mexico, could have interested themselves through the Department of State at Washington, unless their action had been inspired by some source (nearly recognizable) in Arizona. It is generally understood here that two Mexicans of this city communicated with Vincenza of Tucson who, in turn, communicated with Maytorens, who, in turn, interested Villa Camacho Lorenzo, the representative of the so-called Mexican Governor, at Washington. I suppose it is impossible to criticize Mr. Brown for interposing himself in what I think is purely a state matter. We who are familiar with affairs about the Mexican border, know full well that there was no authority of international considerations if Arizona bans these condemned murderers."

"I am more than pleased to feel that some of my friends, and I hope many, appreciate some of the difficulties of the position that I occupy and are willing to commend me for the stand that, on the face of it, seems unpopular."

"Permit me to say that my attitude on any question that has come before this legislature has never been influenced by my personal belief, if it conflicted with what I thought was for the best interest of the state. All through this session, I have exerted what influence I have had to put Arizona on a sound and safe basis and to place her before the world as a pillar that would invite people who love their homes and who want a stable government. I have no apologies to offer to any of my critics on any stand that I have taken. I care nothing for the political side of it and have not let any feeling of antagonism or friendship for any of our high state officials influence my action on any measure."

"In the coming session we shall endeavor to give the people of this state a good land code, and then I hope that our duties will be ended and that they, like yourself, will let it in their hearts to commend at least our intentions."

NINTH CAVALRY IS ORDERED TO ISLANDS

Regiment Which Has Long Been on Arizona Border Will Go to the Philippines.

DOUGLAS, May 31.—The Ninth cavalry will soon begin preparations for moving to the Philippines. According to orders issued by the war department at Washington, the regiment is to be in the islands about Oct. 1. This means that the regiment will sail from San Francisco in September or earlier.

In addition to the Ninth cavalry, the Twenty-seventh infantry, now at Texas City, and the Fifteenth cavalry, now at Fort Bliss, will go to the Philippines, the three regiments collecting the Seventh and Eighth cavalry regiments and the Twenty-fourth infantry. What regiments will be sent here to replace the Ninth is problematical, possibly depending on border conditions at that time.

ZEPPELIN NEAR LONDON

LONDON, (Tuesday) June 2.—The announcement of a Zeppelin raid is made by the Admiralty, which says that even "certain outlying districts of London" were visited. Zeppelins visited Ramsgate, 67 miles east of London and Bournemouth, 17 miles from London. "Many lives are reported, but these cannot be absolutely connected with airship visits," says the announcement. "Further particulars will be issued as soon as collected."
